

'Learning Out of the Box' is an easy to use tool for youth workers, mentors, coaches and trainers helping them address the topic of 'learning' in a fun, engaging and inspiring way in their activities.

In a constantly and rapidly changing world, more than ever before, lifelong learning has become a necessity. At times it may be challenging and stressful, but it can also be a truly empowering experience, a way to realise our passions, to gain confidence, to take full responsibility for our lives and to grow.

In the youth field, there is an increasing recognition of 'learning' as an important topic to put on the agenda. However, it is often difficult to grasp, talk about and work on such a theme in a meaningful way. 'Learning Out of the Box' is a tool which has been designed to support dealing with this challenge.
